Dear Hiring Manager,

Empire Prime Developments needs its social channels and online communities to do more than build brand awareness -- the job description is clear that the goal is driving actual property sales through digital content. Here is what I would bring to that:

1. A content-to-inquiry system across Instagram, Facebook, TikTok, LinkedIn, and X, built specifically around property listings -- so every post ladders toward a viewing request or a DM, not just a like.
2. Proven, simultaneous multi-platform community management -- growing and moderating audiences across several channels at once without any one platform going quiet.
3. Compelling visual storytelling and copywriting built around what actually moves real estate buyers and renters: the lifestyle a property sells, not just its specs.

Here is what I have already done, on real accounts, that proves this transfers directly to Empire Prime Developments:

For James Trading Strategies, I took Instagram, Facebook, and Twitter/X from 0 to 10,000+ followers within 7 days using organic content plus targeted paid boosting, then monetized that audience to $5,000+ in client revenue within 30 days through direct sales, ad-revenue share, and paid brand partnerships -- the same three platforms named in this role's requirements.

For Zonia Hub, a B2B marketplace, I managed Facebook, Instagram, and LinkedIn while building lead-generation funnels and GA4/HubSpot tracking infrastructure from the ground up, improving lead quality and attribution -- the same discipline of turning community engagement into a measurable pipeline, not just vanity metrics, that property sales requires.

I also bring direct real estate marketing experience: I have already run outreach and growth strategy work for real estate brands including Tech City Real Estate and Mercy Divine Properties, so the "knowledge of real estate marketing" your posting flags as a plus is not a gap I would be learning on the job.

My full portfolio, including case studies and results, is available at cmeportfolio.lovable.app. I would welcome the opportunity to bring this same approach to Empire Prime Developments' brand, communities, and property sales pipeline.

Best regards,
Caleb Marvel
